

Portals

Tailored information hubs for stakeholders to facilitate enhanced collaboration and communication

Your staff – and the work you do on behalf of inmates – must incorporate information from outside your facility. Two-way communication between important stakeholders is paramount to gather relevant information, put next steps into place, and make decisions regarding your inmates.

Our custom portals allow various groups involved in the broader justice system to see and share important updates at any time. Whether your team is looking to better connect with family members, case managers, treatment providers, lawyers, therapists, judges, or other outside partners, equivant Corrections can help you develop personalized portals that automate communication securely and effectively.

Key Features

Perfect for a variety of applications and audiences

Secure single sign-on functionality using credentials managed inside Northpointe Suite

Available for customized implementation

Enhanced security measures

Specialized mobile and tablet application option available

With equivant Corrections, your agency can:

- Better communicate programming, visitations, release details, and more to relevant parties
- Provide tailored portals for inmates, judges, and every stakeholder in between
- Allow users to access specific information quickly and privately
- Simplify the flow of information both internally and externally
- More effectively track status updates, plan changes, and assessment results
- Rely on proven, high-security software created and managed by practitioners

Develop personalized portals for specific groups of users to share, learn, and move forward together.